To whom it may concern: Reference letter for Mr. Pieter Marx.

This letter is in support of Mr. Pieter Marx in my capacity as his mentor at the School for Electrical, Electronic and Computer Engineering in 2023. Mr. Marx presented a second-year module and demonstrated outstanding dedication, expertise, and exemplary teaching abilities in the module EERI 222 (on signal theory). Mr. Marx has a remarkable aptitude for teaching and his performance speaks volumes about his adaptability, dedication, and professionalism.

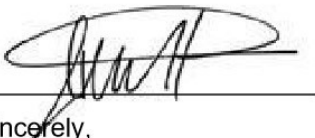

The students' positive feedback on his teaching methods in terms of presentation, assessment, student-engagement, and preparation for assessment, reflects his highly effective approach to teaching.

Mr. Marx was the well-deserved valedictorian at the School of Electrical, Electronic and Computer Engineering and received the first prize for his final year project. He has consistently demonstrated exceptional academic performance based on dedication and hard work.

His master's degree, focused on machine learning and medical device development, particularly in mechanical ventilation, is relevant and supports his dedication to having positive impact in both academic and real-world environments.

Mr. Pieter Marx comes highly recommended, and I can personally testify to his skills, knowledge, and positive attitude towards teaching and learning, research, engineering, and all-round participation. He is a well-rounded individual who works well in a team environment – he will make a difference!

Kindly feel free to contact me should you require any further information.

Sincerely,

Prof JEW Holm
